OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

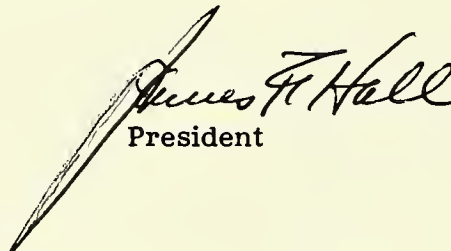

To you who have diligently completed educational goals here and to the entire college community, this yearbook will evoke lasting memories of classwork, friendships and achievement.

Rightfully so. The decisions you made to enrich your lives with higher education are deserving of many reflections, mostly good ones, I suspect.

Your student days at Cape Cod Community College similarly bring memories to our professional and support staff. And they make us feel good! Why? We have had the opportunity to participate in your intellectual growth. We know the obstacles you have surmounted and observe the changes in the relatively short stretch of your life shared with us. We rejoice that so many of you leave Cape Cod Community College well prepared for meaningful careers or transfer to fine colleges and universities.

We are proud of you. We'll thumb through these pages periodically, remembering you and what you accomplished. We are also proud that our community and state have made it possible for us to provide you with excellent educational programs and a fine faculty.

One final presidential edict: Keep and continue the learning habits you developed here. An alert and educated mind will enrich your entire life. Best wishes always.

President

Wrapping with paper bags again — a student curse

"I know what I want."

"Have a Bud and a smile"

"SANDWICHED! What can you do"

"Don't look at me in that tone"

"AHH! I've been unbuckled"

"Yes Mam, you've just won the Most Baffled Look award; Have you anything to say"

"Should I attack"

Smile

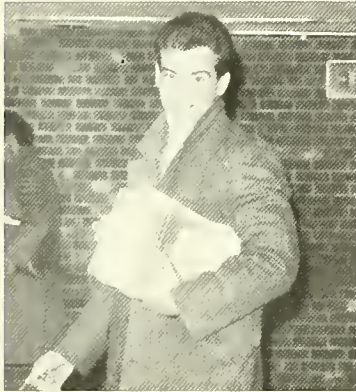

"Check out my funky moves!"

A route to cute with style and a heart to boot.

New method of study; hold your breath until your body makes you give yourself the answers.

"Some of these are getting ridiculous"

PROOF! That God punishes those who have slight slip of pen, or is it pencil.

How many people have their mouths open in this picture?

"I want a HE-MAN life size poster, a big fire truck with a moveable extension ladder, a Jack-in-the-Box that sings the Talking Heads, a non-diary creamer, and a Cabbage Patch Doll that burps and wets on my command."

It's great to see the students stop their plows and start the partying.

Incoming students ... welcome back Steve ... surrounded as usual."

"I told you someone already took my lunch money!"

Hey! You aren't taking my picture re..."

Pose anyway ... but just don't lean on that support like that ... Well I guess it's alright ... smile or give me our best sexy look ... are you watching Stacy?"

"My ticky to drinky"

Dressing the occasion

"Hey Baby"

"It's true! You can expect it from the least expected"

"Why do people put their hands in their pockets when posing? Signed the kids."

Can't you see I'm trying to get some extracurricular reading done before studying for finals? ... et lost!"

"The Casual Male"

"I'm a little tea pot . . ."

"SURPRISE"

"No one's getting HURT"

"Don't tell me . . . It's time to make the donuts."

"Santa starts new bulk rate seating sessions and the kids flock to position"

"Sometimes Friday doesn't come soon enough"

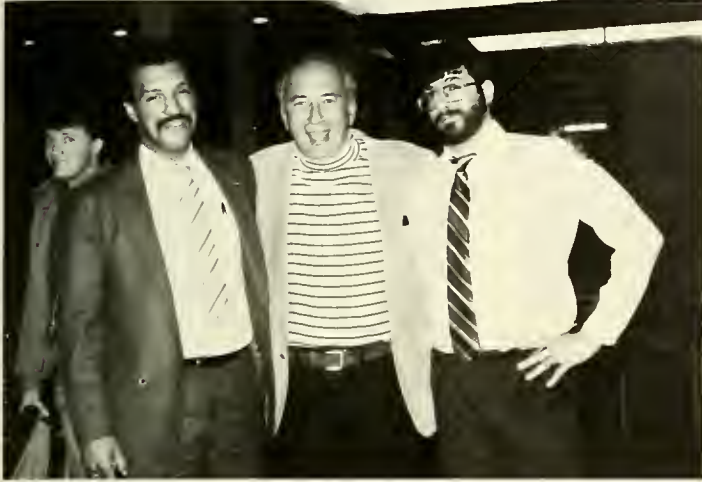

"No! You can't take my picture"

"Oooow, did you hear what she asked me to do"

"Dean Sullivan . . . happy as ever, Goodbye Dana . . . you're already missed, Smile Rick!, the job's yours . . . Hi Danny"

"There's always one who's not ready."

"Daddy's teaching me how to be a REAL student."

"Who is this girl??"

"I bet all of you have this problem at least once."

"Lisa . . . are they looking at me or you?"

"Good One"

"I don't really know . . . sometimes her wrists just do that"

"Here's lookin' at ya"

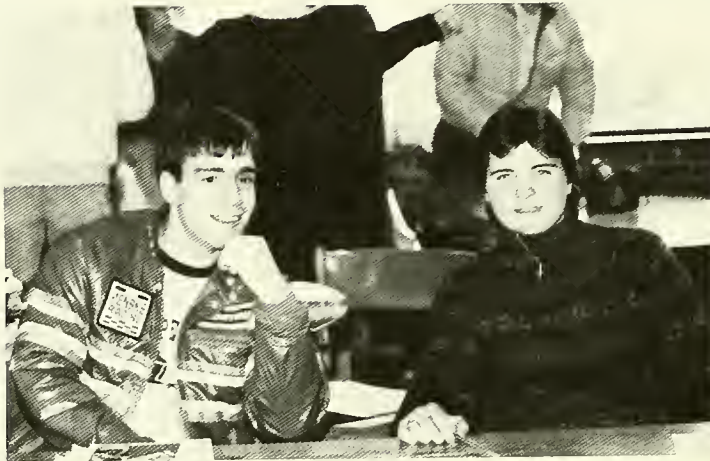

"Hey! You look at me again like and I'll break kneecaps"

"Yes Mother . . . ZZZZzzz"

"Have you seen these people anywhere . . . the gym maybe"

"Are they supposed to be doing that here?"

"I wonder if he's ticklish"

"Pearly Whites"

"Sshhh! . . . He's looking over here now."

"You can take that to the bank."

"Gimme some skin"

"C'mon"

"Give me a break"

"1+1=...3?"

"You're asking us?"

"Mr. October"

"Maybe I'll be a movie star"

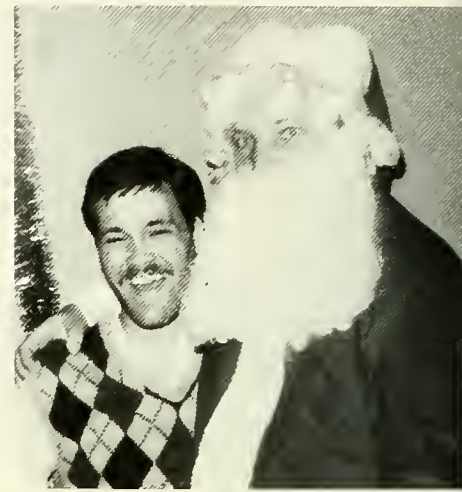

"Exit... Stage Left"

"Orientation . . . seems like only yesterday"

"Of course it's really him"

"Who is this guy?"

"Jamm'n"

"Cramm'n"

"Ranch'n"

"Test . . . Today? . . . HAH!"

"I had four finals, you?"

"Community Audition"

"Oh my ears"

"Hey Mammy"

"You really think I could sing"

"That's the funniest thing I've ever heard"

"Is this some kind of joke"

"New Main Sheet issue due and she's still smiling"

"Old Blue Eyes..."

"Looking good"

"I gotta go"

"No Adria, we don't smoke that"

"My nose just keeps on running"

"Kirsten . . . On your mark, get set, GO! . . ."

"President Hall gives us his version of CAMELOT"

"Rick, with his almighty Evil Eye."

"Peepin' Rose"

"No!!! I won't!"

"My picture? Well"

"Not us, we're shy"

"No problem we're cool"

"Do you think there's any film?"

"Taking Five"

"On guard"

"Too modest"

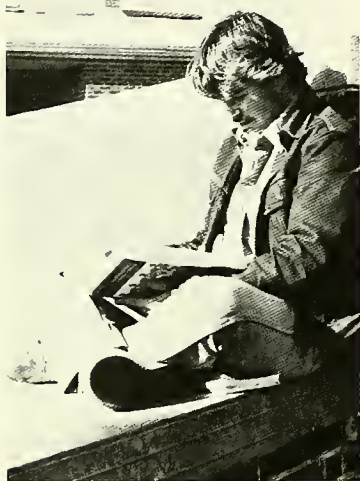

"I Like to study at home!"

"We all study at home, it's fun!"

"Are you serious?"

"Only when my back's against the wall."

"Our venerable vault of volumes"

"I do my best thinking in the uh ... caf."

"You can find me in the computer room, of course"

"Ten pages typed by 1:00"

"In a forum, of forms"

"Not a minute to spare"

"Why did Ginnie take that picture!?"

"Do you have the feeling you're being watched?"

"That's disgusting"

"What is this world coming to"

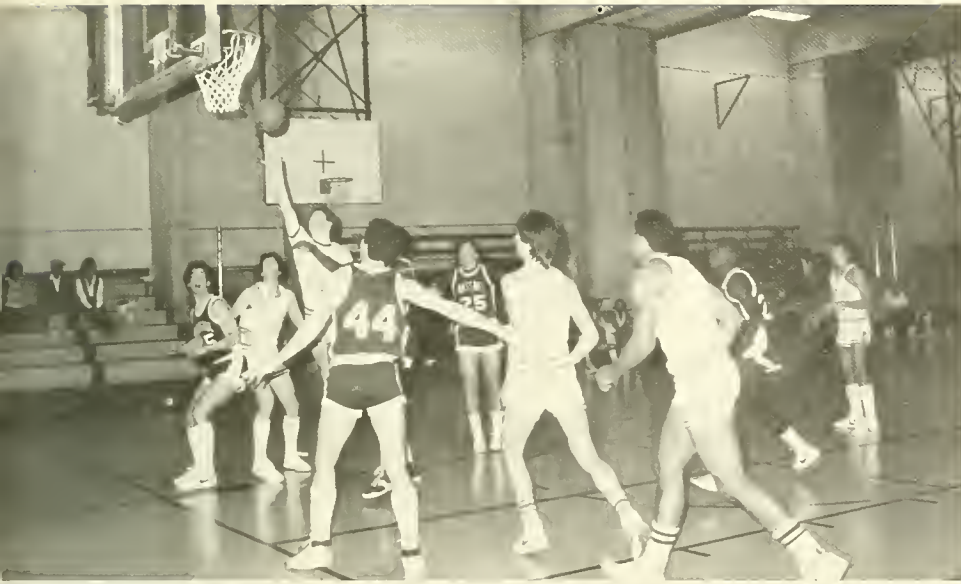

"I don't know"

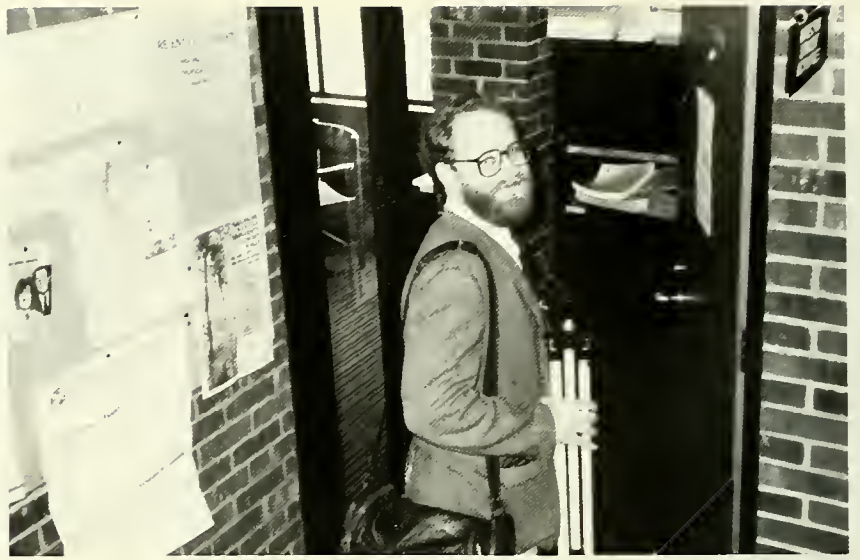

"Did you see that"

Well, it's been quite an eventful and colorful year here at WKKL, complete with the extremely satisfying "ups" and the unusually spicy "downs." Our station is similar to a tightly-knit family; through all of the trials and tribulations, we've managed to remain extraordinarily close.

Many student-run organizations and clubs on campus have suffered in the past from lack of student participation — I am happy to report that has not been the case for us here at WKKL this year. In fact, the familiarity of some of the bright faces here is an omen or testimonial of good things to come. The amount of time, work, and overall dedication and commitment towards the station has been absolutely staggering in '84-5.

The improvements of virtually everything would be far too numerous to mention here, but I would like to point out some of the most important ones, in addition to the people responsible for these achievements. First of all, the groundwork has now been laid for us to begin broadcasting in stereo. Along with this, we expect our output power to increase accordingly. Also, a new programming schedule has been instituted to maximize the quality of WKKL. Furthermore, our mailing list has now been computerized, thus taking us out of the old archaic "system" of communications, and into the new.

Those most concerned with the station inevitably had the most impact. These people have been instrumental in increasing the quality of WKKL, and also determining its "flavor" for the '84-5 year.

DANNY TOWERS, as our Music Director, has no doubt had one of the most arduous and time-consuming tasks of all this year. The screening, sorting and filing of all our incoming music from record companies for our library and our playlist. How Dan managed to uphold three airshifts per week in addition to fulfilling his task as Music Director is still a mystery to me. Whew!

BRIAN BEELER, must have some kind of deep family relation to WKKL by now. As our Studio Engineer, he has made leaps and bounds in improving our equipment. The only thing we're missing is a studio robot! When Brian's thru with WKKL and its equipment, you'll probably be able to pick us up on your toaster. Don't try this at home, kiddies!

The Cape's Alternative
Cape Cod Community College
W. Barnstable, MA 02668

TOM SHAW, has worked diligently as everything from assistant Music Director to news Director to Friendly Disciplinarian with a Comic Flair! By putting a smile on everyone's face, he has not only made time here all that much more bearable, but has also actually improved the quality of the station in its morale, and consequently, its sound. Tom's the guy with the electronically tuned stopwatch hanging around his neck, and he uses it to make his seques between songs as smooth as creamery butter! Get outta here, you knucklehead!

D. ANN FICHTER, has been an indispensable fixture here at the "Cape's Alternative." As Traffic Coordinator, she has performed her duties immaculately. Her professionalism, precision, and touch of class are to be commended. The amount of responsibility and paperwork and patience required to be a secretary here makes an ordinary secretary's job look like a picnic on the beach. It's still incredible to me that while juggling all that, she still manages to keep our office neat and clean.

Radio will always be a team effort, and WKKL is living proof of that. Several other people have also helped with their fair share of the work at our station: Leslie "Psycho Blonde" Price, Jake Ely, Will Rapp, Marcus A. Dogge, The Zone, The Deep Sleeper, Big Ed, David Humphreys, Doug Fogal, Greg Ferris, Dave Ellenbogen, Leslie Kiernan, Russ Palmer, Todd Driver, Barry Kennedy, David McCarron, Jeff Perault, Andy Troyanos, Dave Paton, Bill Munson, Laura McGovern, Randy English, Don "Grand Master" Gaston and also Lou Pells, our Babysitter.

As program Director here at WKKL, I'd like to emphasize the positive outlook of our station; We've never looked better!! Despite problems in the past, our strong and loyal listenership, our present standing in the community, and our dedicated leadership undeniably point to the fact that WKKL will be around for a long time. My own personal experience at WKKL has been extremely rewarding, and I'd like to thank all those who've made it just that.

I'd also like to encourage anyone interested in joining the Radio Club to poke your head in our offices located in the Upper Commons and Say "Hello" we'll be glad to show you around.

Look out, Cape Cod, for the hippest station around . . .

Keep Rockin,

Junto Club

Advisor — Dr. Delores Bird Carpenter

Officers

President — Paula K. Hassett

Vice-President — Cathrine M. Kirby

Treasurer — Susanna L. Kirby

The Junto Club, named after the first literary society in America founded by Ben Franklin, sponsors two trips a year.

In the fall the club travels to Concord for a tour of the Emerson house, a lecture at the Thoreau Lyceum and a visit to Walden Pond, the site of Thoreau's cabin. The trip winds up with a stop at the cemetery where the Emerson, Hawthorne, Thoreau and Alcott families are buried and a visit to the bridge where the shot was fired that was "heard round the world."

The club travels to the Kennedy Library in the spring to attend a lecture on the Hemingway Papers and a movie on Hemingway's life. Club members also receive a general tour of the library that includes a movie on the Kennedys.

The Junto Club is a club for those persons who are interested in American literature.

From Left to Right: Diane Datk, Dianna Dunn, Pat McGraw (faculty advisor), Mary Schoonover, and Cindy Balmer.

- II. SPRING 1985 EXECUTIVE BOARD President Valerie Cameron, Vice President Susan Swenson, Treasurer Carol Call, Secretary Katie Lapworth
- III. CHORAL CLUB ACTIVITIES 1984-85

This past fall the Choral Club committed its energies to the production of a Madrigal Dinner. In preparation for the gals, chorus members lended helping hands — and growling stomachs — to several costume making parties. Once the thread was gone, celebration was in order, and the club held its traditional Chinese dinner/dress rehearsal. The Chamber Singers, meanwhile, were busy throwing their own pot-luch supper/all-day rehearsal. Once polished, the Chamber Singers entertained at the library open house.

The club presently rehearses for upcoming events: The Community College Choral Festival hosted by Holyoke Community College on April 28, the Spring performance which features songs from "Porgy and Bess" on May 18, and commencement on June 4.

ANNE W. SIMON

"The Last Lobster"

The world's oceans cover more than 70 percent of the globe — and they are in danger of destruction. Ocean systems are in disarray. High-tech fishing fleets diminish the fish supply and drive species to extinction. We fill the sea with oil, nuclear waste, toxic chemicals and sewage, which make fish sick and people who eat fish even sicker. We add so much carbon dioxide to the air that the globe heats up, causing the sea to rise. Soon, this "greenhouse effect" will cause flooding tides which will drown lowlands and coastal cities.

What steps must we take to make the ocean survive? We must decide now and act now.

Anne W. Simon has spent more than a dozen years researching the decline of the ocean and of America's coast. She is the author of The Thin Edge: Coast and Man in Crisis and several other books which have been published to great critical acclaim. Neptune's Revenge: The Ocean of Tomorrow, her most recent book, describes the course of action we must take to preserve this gift of nature.

Anne Simon lives with her husband, in New York and Martha's Vineyard.

JAMES ROOSEVELT, JR.

"Eleanor Roosevelt:

Remembering a Woman Ahead of Her Time"

October 11, 1984 marks the 100th anniversary of the birth of Eleanor Roosevelt.

First lady Eleanor Roosevelt achieved an unparalleled measure of political influence. She was a leader in the struggle for civil rights and equality for women. Eleanor Roosevelt worked tirelessly to attain her dream of international cooperation.

James Roosevelt, Jr. is the grandson of Eleanor and Franklin Delano Roosevelt. He is a partner in the Boston law firm of Herrick & Smith. A graduate of Harvard Law School and Harvard College, he heads a group specializing in the representation of health care institutions, as well as continuing in the areas of general litigation and other areas of law practice.

Mr. Roosevelt is a member of the Democratic National Committee and the Democratic State Committee and is also legal counsel to the Massachusetts Democratic State Committee. He is an officer of Cape Cod Life magazine and a member of the Board of Trustees of numerous institutions, including Emmanuel College, the Visiting Nurse Association of Boston Foundation and the Roosevelt Warm Springs Foundation.

He lives in Cambridge with his family.

Sunday, December 9, 1984 2:30 p.m.

WILLIAM V. SHANNON

"Presidents in Perspective:

From Roosevelt to Reagan"

William V. Shannon was educated at Clark and Harvard Universities.

He has been a news correspondent and columnist on national affairs for the New York Post and a member of the Editorial Board of the New York Times. He has contributed articles to Harper's, Atlantic, Commentary, Partisan Review, American Heritage, Commonwealth and The Economist of London.

Shannon has written three books on contemporary affairs: The Truman Merry-Go-Round, The Her Apparent and They Could Not Trust the King.

His book, The American Irish, has remained the standard scholarly work on the history of the Irish in this country since its publication in 1964. Shannon was appointed United States Ambassador to Ireland in 1977 and served until 1981.

William Shannon is a trustee of Clark University, a director of the American Irish Foundation and a member of the American Antiquarian Society. He lectures at numerous colleges and universities.

Since 1981, Shannon has been a professor at Boston University in the University Professors Program.

He lives with his family in Brookline.

MAYA ANGELOU

"An Afternoon with Maya Angelou"

Maya Angelou is a woman of many talents. With just a high school education, she has been a singer, dancer, author, historian, lecturer, actress, producer, editor, songwriter and playwright.

She has written several books of poetry and four autobiographical best sellers including I Know Why the Caged Bird Sings, which was dramatized as a special by CBS. Her articles have appeared in the New York Times, Redbook, and Cosmopolitan.

In the sixties, at the request of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., she became the Northern Coordinator for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. Ms. Angelou has received many honorary doctorates, as well as the Chubb Fellowship from Yale. In 1981 she was appointed the first Reynolds Professor of American Studies at Wake Forest University.

She has performed on more than 150 network and local talk shows including a PBS interview with Bill Moyers, and is also an award-winning author and producer of stage and television programs and films.

Maya Angelou is a sensitive, intelligent and eloquent woman who speaks with vigor, wit, fire and perception.

This program, in celebration of Black History Month, is presented in cooperation with the Cape Cod Community College's Access Program.

Sunday, March 10, 1985 2:30 p.m.

BETTY WILLIAMS

"Peace Is Everyone's Business"

Betty Williams' shock and horror at the senseless killing of innocent children in Northern Ireland in 1976 led to a march of more than 10,000 women, both Catholic and Protestant, seeking an end to violence.

The marches and rallies grew and spread, leading to the foundation of The Community of Peace People. In 1977, Betty Williams and Mairead Corrigan were awarded the Nobel Peace Prize for their efforts. This was the first time since 1946 that a woman received the Nobel Prize. The prize money funded peace projects throughout Northern Ireland.

In her Nobel Address, Betty Williams quoted from the "Declaration of Peace People": "We dedicate ourselves to working with our neighbors, near and far, day in and day out, to building that peaceful society in which the tragedies we have known are a bad memory and a continuing warning."

Betty Williams is married to Ralph Edward Williams and has two children.

Sunday, May 5, 1985 2:30 p.m.

PAUL E. TSONGAS

"The Budget Deficit"

Paul Tsongas, the grandson of a Greek immigrant, was born in Lowell in 1941. After working his way through Dartmouth College, he spent two years with the Peace Corps as a teacher in an Ethiopian village. When he returned home, he entered Yale University Law School where he obtained his LL.B. degree, and was admitted to the Massachusetts bar.

In 1974 Tsongas became the first Democrat to represent the Fifth Congressional District in 90 years. In 1978, he was elected to the U.S. Senate where he compiled a notable record in the fields of conservation and international and domestic affairs.

His 1981 book, The Road From Here: Liberalism and Realities in the 1980's, presents Tsongas' ideas with what he calls "nondological, clear-eyed realism."

In Heading Home, published last year, Tsongas describes his daily life and his decision not to run for reelection.

He has recently joined the Boston law firm of Foley, Hoag and Elliot and was just appointed to the board of Wang Industries.

Tsongas lives in Lowell and in Chatham with his wife, Nicola, and three daughters, Ashley, Katina and Molly.

Michael G. Curtis

Richard K. Nastri

This yearbook is the follow-up on the gallant and admirable success of last year. The Forseer, until recently, had been lost in the progress of a growing college. Thanks to the hard work and sacrifice of Mike Curtis, with full and enthusiastic support from President Hall, we have seen the unshelving of the diary for remembering our Community College years. I hope this follow-up has strengthened the possibility of never losing the yearly issues that represent the ongoing history of Cape Cod Community College.

This book has been given the full support from all sections of the campus and from the people who spend much of their time here, except for my professors who were all for the book but were not happy about how "all for the book" I was.

I would like to thank all the people who contributed to the book of "85."

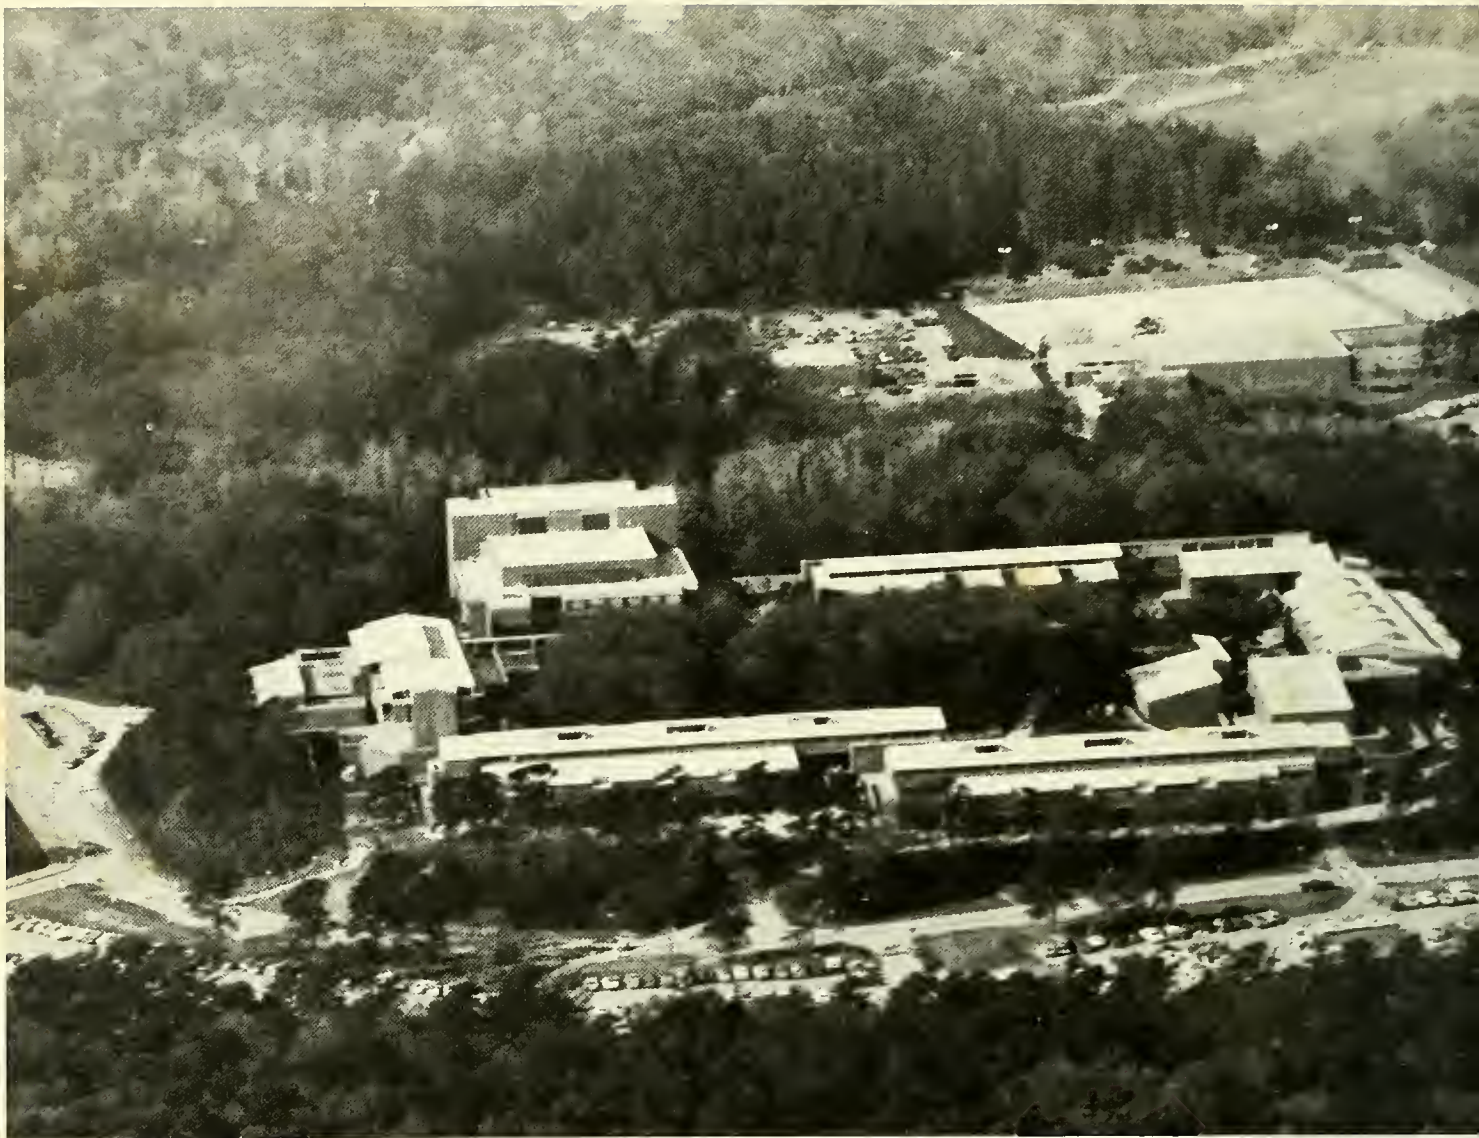

The staff members are: Stacy Rose for her sparkling enthusiasm, Kenny McGuire for his constant effort, Dan Creedon for his calvary ride to the finish and helping a friend when he really had too many other things to do, Ann Fichter for her time when she had none, and Sally Kromberg for her life saving appearance from nowhere that strengthened my spirit to conquer the task. Their combined efforts made the Forseer "85" a reality. Without them the book might have settled back into the dust. Thank-you to: Ginnie Swanson, Julie Calhoon, Marie Lajeunesse, George Grevelis, and Scott Scheurer for their contributions which alleviated some of the load the staff carried. Also thanks to Lisa Griffin, Maureen Murray, Wayne Richardson and last year's photographers for allowing us to stay in the office much more often. Thank you Steve Hensen for your superb photography and organization on the portraits. Thank you Elaine O'Regan for letting me see someone else who had those nerve racking days and survived with a smile at least half the time. Thank you to my roommates, Scott, Jeff, Dan who put up with my grumpy snares and comments after the hard days. Thank you Conrad Schmidt who, as Mike stated in his editor's letter, gave all the support, advice, and help he could; "Taylor Publishing should consider themselves fortunate to be so well represented;" M.C. Thank you Lou Pells for helping in our attempt to partially finance the yearbook from outside sources. Though we were not successful this time, because of the late start, next time the staff can't go wrong with the professional ideas you've given. Thanks to the Student Senate for giving the much needed manpower and time when it came time to sell the book. My final thanks go to my fiancée, Maureen, who gave me strength with her love.

I would like to take this opportunity to dedicate this yearbook to two people who unknowingly strengthened my desires in achieving: To Mike Curtis, Editor of "84," for his courageous efforts to bring forth a legend; To Rick Natri for his support and advice for the new Forseer, which without, it may not have entered a second year, for his wholehearted involvement and care for the students of Cape Cod Community College, and finally for being such a special friend (Same as it always will be).

So, another issue of the Forseer has miraculously made it to the hands of the students of Cape Cod Community College. I hope everyone leaving this year, and those soon to leave, have successful lives as they travel on.

*Thank you,
Goodbye,
and Good Luck,*
